SO, WHO'S DOUG ANYWAY?

Doug is a dung beetle and proud of it. He helps clean up the land of dung - that's just a posh word for poo. Here are some more facts:

- Dung beetles range in size from 1mm to 6cm and live on every continent except Antarctica.
- There are three types of dung beetle: roller, dweller and tunneller.
- Doug is a roller and he moulds tiny balls of dung, which he can then roll away.
- Tunnellers bury the dung deep into the ground
- Dwellers prefer to move in and make themselves a nice snug home inside the dung
